MESSAGES & OPPORTUNITIES FROM CENTRAL UNITED METHODIST CHURCH TO YOU!

Easter

As a child, Easter morning always meant an Easter basket beside my bed. There were fuzzy chenille chicks, chocolate eggs, and marshmallow bunnies. I never cared for marshmallow, but the big chocolate egg in the middle (dark chocolate!) was always a hit.

It wasn't until later than I began asking what chicks, eggs and bunnies had to do with Easter. It took me several years to understand that bunnies did not lay eggs. And why, when we go to church on Easter, are there no chicks, bunnies and chocolate eggs?

Two children were talking about what they had gotten in their Easter baskets. One asked the other: "Why do we have chocolate on Easter, anyway?" After a significant pause, the other offered: "Chocolate was Jesus' favorite?"

What do chicks, chocolate bunnies and eggs have to do with Easter?

...Chocolate was Jesus' favorite?...

The connection was a mystery. And it wasn't until I was older, and back in church as a young adult, that I began to sort it all out. So, while I still enjoy chocolate eggs, as a 30-something I began to teach my children that Jesus' resurrection was the reason we celebrated Easter.

Every Sunday in the Communion liturgy we proclaim the "mystery of faith": "Christ has died, Christ is risen, Christ will come again."

Have you ever wondered why the "mystery of faith" is Jesus' death, resurrection and coming again? Why not include his birth? Or his healings and miracles? Or his teachings?

Certainly some of the things Jesus did and said were a "mystery" or hidden to his disciples and others.

While the birth of Jesus may have established the way we organize our calendar—BC for Before Christ and AD for Anno Domini, or Year of the Lord*—the death and resurrection of Jesus secure and signify God's victory over sin, death and evil. The mystery of God's purpose is revealed for all to see.

- Without the resurrection, there would have been no confirmation that Jesus is the Son of God, Christ and Lord.
- Without the resurrection, Jesus' teachings would not be validated.
- Without the resurrection, we would have no confirmation of the effectiveness of the cross in bringing us God's salvation.
- Without the resurrection, we would have no assurance of forgiveness of sins.
- Without the resurrection, we would have no hope in eternal life.
- Without the resurrection, we would have no promise of the resurrection of our bodies.
- Without the resurrection, we would not have the presence of the Holy Spirit as the power of God in our lives.

As Paul writes in 1 Corinthians 15:13-19, "If Christ has not been raised, then our proclamation has been

The mystery of faith is what God has revealed through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ:

that while we were yet sinners,
Christ died for us.

This is proof of God's love toward us.

in vain and your faith has been in vain. . . . If Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile and you are still in your sins. . . . If for this life only we have hoped in Christ, we are of all people most to be pitied."

Without the resurrection, we might as well "eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."

This is why Easter is the high holy day of the Christian year, as we celebrate God's love and power in providing our deliverance. The resurrection of Jesus is the central message of Christianity.

The "mystery of faith" is what God has revealed through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ: that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. This is proof of God's love toward us. This affirmation shapes our life together, as we place our hope in Jesus Christ, God's gift for our salvation.

So it is with great joy, anticipation, loud singing, praise and proclamation, that we again— this year (on April 24th)—affirm that just as Jesus passed over from death to life in the resurrection, so we, by the power of God through our baptism and faith in Jesus Christ, have passed over from death to new life. Thanks be to God!

In Christ, Pastor Stephanie

April 2011

Dear Members and Friends,

I recently read an interesting article in the March issue of The Virginia Advocate detailing one couple's journey toward tithing. The article, "I know the church needs my money, but that's not why I give", included many thoughts that sound very familiar. We all know that "the church needs our money," and "no matter how much we give it never seems to be enough." "The church's needs are so great" and "we feel guilty when we can't do more." At one point a fellow congregant told the author of the article, "Jim (Dake), you have a need to give that is more important than our church's need to receive."

What an interesting way of looking at our call to give. We know how good it feels to give, whether it is our gifts of money, time or service. Wouldn't it be refreshing if we could focus on the joy of giving, rather than on what the church needs and what we can afford. There are countless ways we can give of our time and talents serving God in our church and our community; and every time we give, we receive.

Our Easter offering provides an opportunity for us to give financially, to support the ministry of Central— an opportunity to feel the joy of giving at a time in the Christian calendar when we are celebrating once again the miracle of Christ's resurrection.

CHILD'S PLAY NEWS

The latest news from our pre-school program, "Child's Play," includes good and bad news. One of our teachers, Mrs. Emily S. Cox, finished her last day on February 24, as she is expecting her fourth child in March. We really enjoyed having her and her talents. We wish "Miss Emily" well. Her daughter, Maggie, is continuing in the program.

It is so good to have Mrs. Katherine C. Spurlock, our new teacher as of March 1. All of us are enjoying her being with us. When "Miss Katie" visited with us in January, the children were disappointed that she did not stay with us all morning. Now she does!

We are beginning to accept registrations for the next session: September 13, 2011, through the middle of May 2012. If you know any children 20 months to 32 months by September 2011, please have their parents contact the church office or JoAnn Black at (540) 886-1272.

Thanks to Central UMC for sponsoring "Child's Play" for 19 years. It is an opportunity to prepare young children for life in a Christian setting. May God bless all.

ONE GREAT HOUR OF SHARING SUPPORTS UMCOR

The news story might be about the United Methodist Committee on Relief's response to an earthquake in Haiti or Chile (or Japan). Perhaps it reports on UMCOR's work following tornadoes in the Midwestern United States or with an older-adult ministry in Armenia. Nine times out of 10, the story will end with an unabashed appeal for funds.

Accompanying the instructions on how to give will be words such as "100 percent of your gift will support..." the designated ministry. Those words are possible because of United Methodists response to another appeal—the annual One Great Hour of Sharing offering, which underwrites UMCOR's administrative expenses, the "costs of doing business" in 81 countries. This allows the entire amount designated for a particular UMCOR program to go to the cause of the giver's choice.

Sunday, April 3, is designated as One Great Hour of Sharing Sunday. Please give prayerfully.

MUSIC NOTES

C. Austin Miles (1868-1945) wrote the well-loved hymn "In the Garden."

Mr. Miles wrote this account of the writing of the hymn:

"One day in April 1912, I was seated in the dark room, where I kept my photographic equipment and organ. I drew my Bible toward me; it opened at my favorite chapter, John 20—whether by chance or inspiration let each reader decide. That meeting of Jesus and Mary had lost none of its power and charm.

As I read it that day, I seemed to be part of the scene. I became a silent witness to that dramatic moment in Mary's life, when she knelt before her Lord, and cried, 'Rabboni!'

My hands were resting on the Bible while I stared at the light blue wall. As the light faded, I seemed to be standing at the entrance of a garden, looking down a gently winding path, shaded by olive branches. A woman in white, with head bowed, hand clasping her throat, as if to choke back her sobs, walked slowly into the shadows. It was Mary.

As she came to the tomb, upon which she placed her hand, she bent over to look in, and hurried away.

John, in flowing robe, appeared, looking at the tomb; then came Peter, who entered the tomb, followed slowly by John

As they departed, Mary reappeared; leaning her head upon her arm at the tomb, she wept. Turning herself, she saw Jesus standing, so did I. I knew it was He. She knelt before Him, with arms outstretched and looking into his face cried, 'Rabboni!' I awakened in sun light, gripping the Bible, with muscles tense and nerves vibrating. Under the inspiration of this vision I wrote as quickly as the words could be formed the poem exactly as it has since appeared. That same evening I wrote the music."

As we remember Jesus' great sacrifice and love for us and His glorious Resurrection, we are humbled, blessed and forever grateful and comforted knowing that our Jesus will never leave us. He is with us in every moment of our lives. As the refrain of "In the Garden" reminds us---

*And He walks with me, and he talks with me,
And He tells me I am His own,
And the joy we share as we tarry there,
None other has ever known.*

—Sherry von Oeyen, Minister of Music

The Empty Cross

Each time we see the empty Cross let it remind us of the suffering of Jesus, but also the victory. In the words of Peter Marshall, “Let us never live another day as if He were dead!”

Central has a long history of serving in mission, locally as well as many places in the United States, and even a number of foreign locations. However, it has been several years since we have sponsored any mission trips. At a recent Mission/Outreach meeting we began discussing the many/countless wonderful opportunities available to serve in mission.

Would you be interested in participating in a mission trip to another state, or possibly to another country? There are presently opportunities to travel to Haiti, Guatemala, Brazil and Mozambique to name a few. The work could be physical labor, and could involve ministering to the local people in numerous ways—using all of your talents and God-given gifts. The Mission/Outreach Committee plans to survey the congregation over the next several months to determine your interest. Many of these trips would need to be planned months in advance, and fundraising would be involved. In addition there are mission projects in response to natural disasters that would not be planned as far in advance because they would be in response to unexpected occurrences. These could be in the United States or other countries.

We hope you will prayerfully consider our survey and indicate your interest and willingness to serve.

TRANSFORMING MONEY INTO MISSION

By Luz M. de Tablan

Central United Methodist Women is an active participant in celebrating UMW's dedication to mission with women, children and youth and the total United Methodist Church. Members respond to the call to be the "hands and feet of Jesus Christ" in our communities and even around the world putting their Faith, Hope and Love in Action. Their mission giving continues to respond to the needs of women, children and youth. They believe that their monetary gifts as members of the organization continues to fulfill the PURPOSE; and even smaller amounts, when enhanced and multiplied by the giving of many, enable a full and consistent response to human need. They also believe that their giving makes it possible to respond to emergencies and to explore new mission opportunities.

As members of the 800,000 global members of UMW they are also connected and involved with women around the world with their faithful giving through undesignated channels of giving that ensures the continuity of the ministry with women, children and youth.

This year the unit is supporting projects in Haiti, Henry Fork Center, Meals on Wheels in Staunton and Central Food Pantry with their Pledge to Mission money. A portion of the budget is sent to the district, conference and then to the Women's Division.

Through giving, United Methodist Women provide for the mission outreach of the organization. The understanding of the total program as mission is basic as funds are received and dispersed for:

- Fostering growth in the Christian faith, mission education, and Christian social involvement.
- Building a supportive community among women and enabling their participation in church and society.
- Caring for the needs and concerns of women, children and youth.
- Advocating for the oppressed and disposed.
- Interpreting the PURPOSE of United Methodist Women.

As a member of the whole organized United Methodist Women in the world, Central United Methodist Women with their faithful giving understand that they are helping provide opportunities for women, children and youth to grow in their faith and in their understanding of mission and opportunities for leadership development and global education in light of biblical and theological reflections that will enable them to empower and enhance the work of the church and enrich the life of the individual. With their Pledge to Mission giving they also commit to human rights, racial justice, world peace and global justice.

In total the undesignated giving of United Methodist Women accounts for the largest single source of funds for the total General Board of Global Ministry budgets. These undesignated funds are also appropriated for the total program and operation of the Women's Division. Funds are also appropriated to other units of the General Board to continue ministries to women, children and youth.
